FAMED FOR ITS HOLY WELLS

City of Benares, India, a Place of Peculiar Veneration for the Devout Pilgrim.

Benares, "the city of 2,000 temples," is also the city of holy wells. A pilgrim in Benares can put in a busy day making the rounds of these landmarks and complying with the ceremonies prescribed for those who would drink from them.

Only the devout Indian pilgrim would care to drink of the sacred wells, for custom says that flowers must be flung into most of them as peace offerings, and these decayed floral offerings tend to make the water unfit for drinking. The British government did clean up some of the most holy and popular of the wells in the interests of sanitation. But the Hindus were not pleased. They come hundreds of miles to enjoy the benefits of the holy water, taste, scent and all, and they do not care to have it tampered with.

The most holy of the wells is the Well of Knowledge, which stands near Benares' most sacred shrine, the Golden temple, and is said to be the dwelling place of a very important god. The most mysterious is the Well of Fate. Any one who looks into the Well of Fate exactly at noon and fails to see his shadow is said to be doomed to die within six months. Of course, if the silent prophecy is unfavorable, the spirits can usually be bought off by offerings at the temple conveniently near by.

In another well a snake god lives, and still another is dedicated to the spirit of healing. Pilgrims not only drink of the water of this well, but also bathe in it to make sure of the water's power being transferred to them. Half a million pilgrims tour the holy wells of Benares every year and drink enough of the water to stock up their systems with the germs of every disease known to India.

MEMORY'S JOY AND SORROW

To the Properly Balanced Mind the Scales Will Be Found About Evenly Arranged.

It is remembrance that makes us human, remembrance that gives us present immortality. Without memory there could be no progress, no advancing from low places to the heights; for it is memory that brings the past to us and gives us a certain immunity from the burdens of the passing moment.

Not in childhood, perhaps, but at all other times memory is the mother of hope. It may be true, as Dante said and Tennyson echoed, that sorrow's worst sorrow is to remember a happier time; but against this we have to weigh the numberless joys that memory confers, the lessons it teaches us, the strength it gives us and the coherence, the sense of completeness that it gives to our lives.

It is not well to live in memory only, unless in old age, when remembrance may be the best treasure left to us. We can easily become morbid and weak by too continual a dwelling in the past; the present and the future both have their insistent claims. But any sane person knows that the abuse of good may always turn it into an evil, and remembrance can be no exception to this law.

Snow Houses in the Arctic.

A snow house is the most adaptable of dwellings. If it gets too warm either for the comfort of the inhabitants or because the roof begins to thaw, you can lower the temperature by enlarging the ventilating hole with your knife. If it gets too cold you make the hole smaller by stuffing a mitten into it. If the roof begins to thaw because it is made of blocks that are too thick you send a man out with a long knife or machete, and he thins them down until the frost without neutralizes the heat from within and the thawing stops. But if you have made your roof too thin and hoar frost begins to form from your breath and from the steam that rises from the cooking, then a man goes out with a shovel instead of a knife and throws a little soft snow on the roof to blanket it from the excessive cold.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson in Harper's Magazine.

Peele's.

There was offered for sale recently Peele's hotel in Fleet street, originally famous as Peele's Coffee house. With its files of London and provincial newspapers it was very popular, especially among the lawyers of the Temple and Chancery lane. At Peele's, from 1858 onward, until its work was successfully concluded, was the central committee room of the Society for Repealing the Paper Duty. At one time the old coffee house was the house of call and post office for all the money lenders and bill discounters in the neighborhood. It was rebuilt some 40 or 50 years ago, and reflects very little of its earliest history today.

Tradition Upset.

Trouble with miners is almost proverbial. In South Staffordshire, England, there were three big strikes in successive decades, namely, 1864, 1874 and 1884, and on those occasions the older men led the younger ones. In the recent trouble it has been the other way about. Whilst the seniors were quite inclined to accept what the commission had given them, the young men were restive, and the elder miners had, for once in a way, to follow the boys who were really out—after the commission's report—for a day or two's "shackling."

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
